WHO IS PIMEF?

Printing Industry Midwest's Education Foundation (PIMEF), promotes workforce education and development in print and marketing communications and related industries, for individuals who currently are or in the future may be employed in such industries. PIMEF provides funding, coordination and/or development of job training programs, industry evangelism, career fairs, scholarships, dislocated workers programs, and other means.

Annual earnings from the PIMEF supports scholarships awarded each year to those pursuing higher education in the Graphic Communications field, as well as other initiatives advocated and supported by the PIMEF Board of Directors.

Your tax-deductible contribution will help a young person begin training for a career in print. A variety of levels of giving are available. There are also opportunities to support continuing education scholarships through a life insurance policy with the PIM Education Foundation Endowment Fund as beneficiary.
